nnounced, in the Issue of the Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia of June 16 The two periods of New York society, a century apart, yet connected by the kinship of the characters, are said to be very graphscally described. Part 1 pictures New York at the close of the revolution; Part 2 is the metropolis of to-day. Each part is a complete novelette by itself.

In June there will be five issues of the Youth's Companion. Among the many con tributions to them will be a story in three parts, "Four Charms," by C. A. Stephens "Klondikes, Old and New," by Prof. N. S. Shaler, of Harvard; "Authors and Animals," by Andrew Lang; "Robert Louis Stevensor and Children," by Edmund Gosse; "At the North Pole," by Admiral Markham, of the British navy; "What Funston Did Before," the account of an incident in General Funston's travels in Alaska, and more than twenty short stories.

The New England Magazine is doing a good work in setting forth the local history, traditions and chronicles of the towns and cities of New England. An account of New Haven is given in the June number. The is profusely illustrated. There is also an in-teresting sketch of Hamilton College at Clinton, N. Y., New England's first col-lege established outside of New England. An illustrated description of the picturesqu sland of Grand Manan and a biographica sketch of Lorenzo Dow are other features of an entertaining number.

The June number of Harper gives up good deal of space to fiction. Besides the larized themselves by personal observation serials by H. Marriott Watson and W. Mr. Fuller's story, which entitled "Mr. Perkins's Wife," is one magazine fiction, which make the weary reader speculate as to the character of the ditorial mind. Among the more serious ontributions to the number the paper by Henry Smith Williams, M. D., on "The Century's Progress in Scientific Medicine," Holt (with a list of 125 concerns capitalized at over $10,000,000 each, including those formed very recently); an article by W. T. Stead on "Oliver Cromwell and the National Church of England," with reproductions of famous paintings of Cromwell; an illustrated account of the Mormon settlements in Mexico, by Charles W. Kindrick, United States consul at Cludad Juarez. Mexico; an illustrated paper on "The State as a Farmer," by Leonora Beck Ellis, and an illustrated survey of the season's new books (not included in these sheets.) The editorial department, Progress of the World," deals particularly with the industrial and commercial condi-

Harvey, it seems likely to take a new lease of life, already showing signs of a gradual emergence from the rut in which it had fallen. The number opens with an article by Lyman J. Gage, secretary of the treasury, on "The Conditions and Prospects of the Treasury." Mr. William J. Bryan discusses apnodern politics, and Henry C. Ide, formerly hief justice of Samoa, writes of "The Improglio in Samoa." Among other papers of a characteristically original discussion the place of "Israel Among the Nations," by Max Nordau; and an entertaining review present status of the woman's rights movement under the title of "The Reverses of Britomart," by Edmund Gosse. In addition to these Maj. Gen. Nelson A. Miles makes his second contribution to what must be regarded as the official history of "The War with Spain;" and the Right Hon. James Bryce, M. TRIP TO THE YUKON ALL THE RAGE DURING THIS SUMMER.

Many Congressmen in Official and Private Capacity to Make the Journey-A Chinese Annual Pass.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, June 4.-Nothing probably excites greater interest just at present than a desire to know more of Alaska, where | Kentucky such remarkable discoveries of the yellow Maryland metal have been made, and excursions of | Wyoming ..... the curious, who are not classed as specu- | Ohio ..... Other | Michigan ...... parties of excursionists are preparing to Missouri ...... make the trip for the combined purpose of North Carolina ...... pleasure and instruction, and in this latter class there are not a few prominent senators and representatives who believe that they can vote more intelligently on the various questions affecting Alaskan interests which will come up for consideration during the coming session if they have familwith the conditions existing in this great territory of the United States. On June 10 the revenue cutter Hugh McCulloch will sail out of San Francisco bearing a distinguished party of senators and representatives bound for Alaska. The majority of these go in an official capacity, relative to the dispute which has arisen between the United States and Canada, to study the exact location of the boundary between the possessions of the United States and those of Great Britain.

A small party of senators and representatives is now planning here to make an Alaskan trip simply as private citizens, paying their expenses and having in view a visit to the entire territory as far as possible. Those who will compose this party are Congressman Gordon, of St. Mary's, O. 'Bernie" Layton, assistant sergeant-atarms of the Senate, also of Ohio; Senator Bacon, of Georgia; Dr. Gallinger, senator from New Hampshire; Senators Clark, of Wyoming, and Turner, of Washington, and there will possibly be several others more or less distinguished to join the party before it leaves Seattle. Eastern members of the party will rendezvous at Chicago one week hence and then proceed to Spokane, the home of Senator Turner. There the Easterners will be entertained several days or perhaps a week by Senator Turner and then proceed to Seattle. After a brief stay in Seattle the party will embark for Alaska, via the Linn canal, inside route to Skagway. They will visit Juneau, Sitka, Daw-son, Circle City and in fact every point which they decide would be profitable or interesting to take in.

Mr. George H. Gillilard, formerly private secretary to the late Senator Calvin S. Brice, and now holding a similar position to the "Copper King," so called, Senator Clark, of Montana, was to-day exhibiting something in the way of a railroad pass which attracted considerable attention even in Washington, where free passes on railroads are by no means a novel sight, as althere are pleasant sketches of travel and hundred, according to the method or persistpapers on international politics, readings ency of his "grafting" propensities. Mr. Gilliland holds an annual pass over one of from noteworthy new books and much else of interest. This magazine is now published the leading railroads of the Chinese empire, and the "transportation" bears on its face nothing whatever that the average American could understand. Were it not so elaborate in design one might think he had come from the blue with which the public has so long a Chinese pawn or laundry shop. On the been familiar. Under the management of obverse side are peacocks with all their feathers, dragons with teeth, to say nothing of the red ink hieroglyphics the Chinese brethren use in their alphabet. On the reverse side are other characters, which presumably contain the name of the railroad and also the conditions under which Mr. George H. Gilliland may use the transporta-tion. It is supposed it has the usual non-transferable clause, and suggestions, if discovered in the possession of any other than the person to whom it is issued, will be promptly confiscated and the man attempting to impersonate another will be forced to pay full fare or else be dropped off the train interest is a view of the work of the peace at the next station. But at any rate George conference by a diplomatist at The Hague; Gilliland says it is an annual pass upon a Chinese raffroad and it certainly looks the part, and there are none brave enough to gainsay his assertions. It has evidently been engraved, and the work on it is as fine as any one is accustomed to see on Uncle Sam's promises to pay, and it would be a difficult matter to counterfeit it. Gilliland figures out with the aid of a huge atlas, and having some knowledge of transcontinental routes, that it would cost him just $1,800 to reach China, or, rather, the portion of China where this railroad operates, in order to avail himself of the courtesy which has been extended to him before it expires by

HAS NINE MORE PLEDGES FOR SPEAKERSHIP THAN NECESSARY.

The Iowa Representative Announced in Chicago Yesterday His "Cinch" on Reed's Place.

CHICAGO, June 4.-Colonel Henderson, of Iowa, was introduced to Admiral Schley at the Union League Club dinner to-night as the next speaker of the House. Colonel Henderson's only reference to his campaign for the speakership was the remark that when summoned to the luncheon he was answering some gratifying telegrams he had received during the morning. Then he said: "As Admiral Schley was talking the thought that came to me was that the great men of the country were as pieces of bark floating down the Mississippi. They are carried along not of their own force, but by the intelligence of the people. It was not Grant who did it: it was not Sherman, nor was it the immortal Lincoln. What has been accomplished has been through the intelligence of the great millions of the American people.

The Record to-morrow will say: Congressman David B. Henderson, of Iowa, today received enough pledges by telegraph and mail to give him 102 votes in the Republican caucus when it meets in Washington. As 93 votes constitute a majority the Republican representation in the House Colonel Henderson has 9 to the good and more States to hear from. The votes pledged him and those which he has good reason to believe will be promised him in a short time are as follows:

Pledged. Probable. States. West Virginia .....

Word came to Chicago to-day that Jas. S. Sherman and Sereno E. Payne, New York's rival aspirants for the speakership, will withdraw from the contest in a few days, thus making Colonel Henderson's

When Colonel Henderson's mail and telegrams showed he had passed the majority with votes to spare, he sent word to his colleagues on the Iowa delegation, telling them there was no need to hold the caucus in Des Moines, which had been called for to-morrow to lay out plans for a vigorous campaign. He was assured of his election and was in a position to take his ease and receive congratulations. These were showered on him yesterday. They came in the mails and over the wires and were accompanied by extended hands at the Union League Club and at his rooms in the Au-To-day all the Illinois Republican con gressmen who are in the city or near it are xpected to call on the prospective speaker and tell him how glad they are. The Henderson campaign for the speakership of the national House is a record breaker. It really egan in Atlantic City, where the House mmittee of fifteen Republicans, named in weeks ago. Thomas B. Reed at that time close the fact that he was to retire from the House and go into the law business in it was learned that a new speaker would have to be elected it was suggested that to put in the speaker's chair. On May 7 a haif-dozen Republican congresssmen gathered in Washington. Some of them were General Grosvenor, of Ohio; F. H. Gillett, of Massachusetts; James A. Tawney, of Minnesota, and Joseph W. Babcock, of Wisconsin, and the other two were men west of the Mississippi river. Colonel Henderson said to-day "I am elected beyond doubt, for I have nore than the required number of votes now, and I sit here in this chair with the knowledge that I have not made a single pledge, have not made a single promise of ed in on that sort of thing I might make a mistake. My policy will be to do what is is eminently proper to have the speaker come from the West, and I think my Eastern friends recognized the justice of our claims. It certainly looks that way to me. Charles E. Litttlefield, Republican candiate to succeed the late Nelson Dingley, of Maine, telegraphed he will give his vote to Mr. Henderson. Congressman Boutelle, of Mrs. Schilling Turns on the Gas, Kill-Maine, has wired similar assurances.

New York for Henderson. NEW YORK, June 4.-When New York's republican congressional delegation meets in caucus Tuesday it will take up the speakership question. It is almost certain that at the meeting the New York delegation will declare for General Henderson, of Iowa. Congressman Sereno Payne, of Auburn, was in the city to-day to see Senator Platt. Congressman Payne is looked on as one of Senator Platt's closest political and personal friends, and would have been his choice for speaker. He is now chairman of that his nomination is assured. I have been in touch with the members of the different delegations who have been reported to be for him, and all my information confirms the published reports. I believe that Gen-eral Henderson will be the next speaker. It derson's nomination unanimous. I believe to do when it meets next Tuesday." Will Be for Henderson. WATERBURY, Conn., June 4 .- Congressman N. D. Sperry, of New Haven, when asked to-night by a representative of the Republicans as to whom the Connecticut delegation would probably support for the speakership, said that the Connecticut representatives have not had a meeting yet to confer on the question, and that, personally, he would not commit himself until strongly favor Colonel Henderson, of Iowa. Many think that, in view of the fact that President McKinley from the easternmost of the central group of States, it would be wise geographical choice to select the speaker from the Northwest. Colonel Henderson is a man of ability, and is very popular in the House, where he has served sixteen years. If he should be elected he would make a most creditable speaker."

NEW YORK, June 4.-Mrs. Johanna Schilling, thirty-five years old, and her two were desirous of making application young daughters, Gertrude, aged ten, and Edna, aged eight, were found dead this afternoon in their home in a tenement. All had been asphyxiated by gas, doubtless turned on by the mother with the idea of murdering her two children and then committing suicide. The tragedy evidently grew out of a quarrel between the woman and her husband, Otto Schilling, a tailor. A week ago they had a misunderstanding and the ways and means committee, and expects to hold the place. HAVANA, June 4.-General Collazo publishes in the Herald of Havana a letter expounding the Cuban idea of the situation. He says in part: "A good deal of discussion now in progress shows that the real situation is misunderstood. Both the Americans and the Cubans desire the independence of the island-the Americans because they are pledged to it, and the Cubans because of patriotic and political concerns. Between the two stands the Washington business interests involved. There is no doubt that the beauty and rich possibilities of Cuba have aroused in many of our visitors a greed which is responsible for the attempt to create the notion that the country is warlike, whereas the fact is that the Cubans are so docile that even the desperation of hunger will not lead them into wrongful action. Importations in One Month Show United States Trade Increasing.

tary of War Meikeljohn has received from Havana a general statement of articles of merchandise imported into that port during the month of February, 1899, showing the countries from which the importations were made. Other reports of a similar nature are expected to be filed with the secretary of war covering other ports in the island of Cuba. The reports for March, April and May are daily expected. As an evidence of the business done at the port of Havana for a single month, and that the shortest month of the year, there were 337 packages of agricultural implements, weighing 12.181 kilos; imported from the United States, and 712 packages, weighing 5.457 kilos, from England. All of these packages were imported free of duty, as there is no tariff on agricultural implements imported into Cuba. During the same month there was imported from the United States to Havana 375,988 litres of beer; from England, 13,601 litres, and from other countries, 2.647 litres. During February there were imported into Havana from the United States 357,287 kilos of codfish; from England, 118,400 kilos, and from other countries, 27,123 kilos. In crock-ery England leads the list of any single country, there being imported from that country 20,428 kilbs, against 3,475 kilos from the United States, while there were imported from other countries 21,087 kilos.

LINGERED LONG AT 90. The Thermometer Went High Early -Crowds at the Parks.

While the temperature didn't climb any higher up the tube yesterday than it did the day before, still, taken as a whole, the day was much warmer than the preceding day. On Saturday the mercury, by persistent work, managed to get its finger tips on the horizontal bar labeled 90 degrees. and, having established its record, slid gracefully down the pole, made its bow and retired from the center of the stage. But yesterday's mercury was an athlete of a different caliber. It shinned up the pol early in the day, got a firm hold on the O-degree bar, and remained there until the toire of tricks the while. The weather bureau people admitted, upon being pressed that the day was rather a warm one, but intimated that they had several others just as warm "up their sleeves," to be generously distributed in the near future. Street-car traffic to the parks was heavy yesterday, Broad Ripple having an unusua Brazil, with the Brazil Band along, brought in a number of people, who went to the parks for an outing.

CROWDS AT THE QUARTERS OF FITZSIMMONS AND JEFFRIES.

"Lanky Bob" Was Thirty-Seven Years Old Yesterday, but Says He Is Good Enough to Win.

NEW YORK, June 4.-Champion "Bob" Fitzsimmons was thirty-seven years old today. He celebrated the event quietly and after the ordinary manner in which he celebrates the Sabbath. On that day he usually rests. The fact that Fitzsimmons has turned into another year has led some of the sports to think that it may have an effect on his hold on the championship, but Fitz thinks otherwise himself, and so do the vast majority of his admirers.

Fitzsimmons has been training energetically at his quarters at Bath Beach for some weeks past, and he is in fine fettle. He will go into the ring with Jeffries on Friday next, he says, in as good form as he exactly those adopted by him when he is in the best trim of his life. The champion had a lot of visitors to-day, but he kept largely under cover. Fitz is said to weigh about 168 pounds at the present time. Jeffries's training quarters, at Asbury Park, fairly swarmed with visitors to-day the majority of whom were disappointed as they did not even catch a glimpse him. He did his work to-day early in the morning, which was something out of the ordinary, as Jeffries's work since he has een training at Asbury Park has generally laney has been looking after Jeffries at his training quarters, and he and Manager Brady are thoroughly satisfied with the Californian's condition. Delaney said today that Jeffries had worked himself down to about 208 pounds, and that he will be more than fit to meet Fitz at the Coney Island Athletic Club on Friday next.

SAILS IN A COCKLESHELL

Capt. Frietsche and His Cat Start for Manila in a Thirty-Foot Boat.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4 .- The little schooner-rigged boat Coke, about thirty feet long and only five tons measurement, sailed for Manila to-day. Captain Freitsche, the sole occupant of the vessel, proposes to make a tour of the world in the apparently frail cockleshell, which he constructed with his own hands. He claims to have crossed the Atlantic in a vessel of even smaller dimensions. His only companion on his long and perilous voyage will be a cat, to which he is much attached and which he calls his mascot, as it has been with him before on long and lonely cruises. The Coke is a thorough sea-going craft of her kind and her venturesome skipper does not anticipate any trouble in making the trip. He sailed from the Mission-street whart and was heartly cheered by a large crowd of spectators. The Coke was watched from the shore till she disappeared through the Golden Gate. Freitsche is known as a skillful and daring navigator, and seamen here are inclined to believe that he will succeed in circumnavigating the globe, notwithstanding many predictions to the con-

Benten Back by High Wind, SAN FRANCISCO, June 4. - The little schooner Coke returned to port to-night, having been unable to make any headway against the strong southwest wind prevall-ing outside Golden Gate. Her captain proposes to make another attempt to get started on his way to Manila in a day or two.
